Artist Statement

My initial intentions for a painting are rarely apparent at the end. I focus on following the flow of the paint. Letting go of expectations and the desire of what I want is challenging, but the joy and freedom of “anything goes” is worth the risk every time.

I enjoy painting with non-traditional tools and a variety of paint viscosities to create interesting surfaces. My goal is to invite the viewer on a journey to a peaceful hideaway that soothes the soul.
